

The “Tripper wall”

Aimed at:

- constraining entrance breakout location
- preventing damage to natural and built assets
- disappearing below beach between breakouts
- being an inexpensive flexible structure

Slope formed up in sand

Temporary lagoon
drainage

Geotextile underlay

Reno Mats placed long ways down slope

Late 1974

Lagoon entrance
Surf Club

Approximate location
of tripper wall

Late 1980s

Surf Club

Tripper wall -
partially covered

Dune recovery

2016

Surf Club

Tripper wall

Dune field

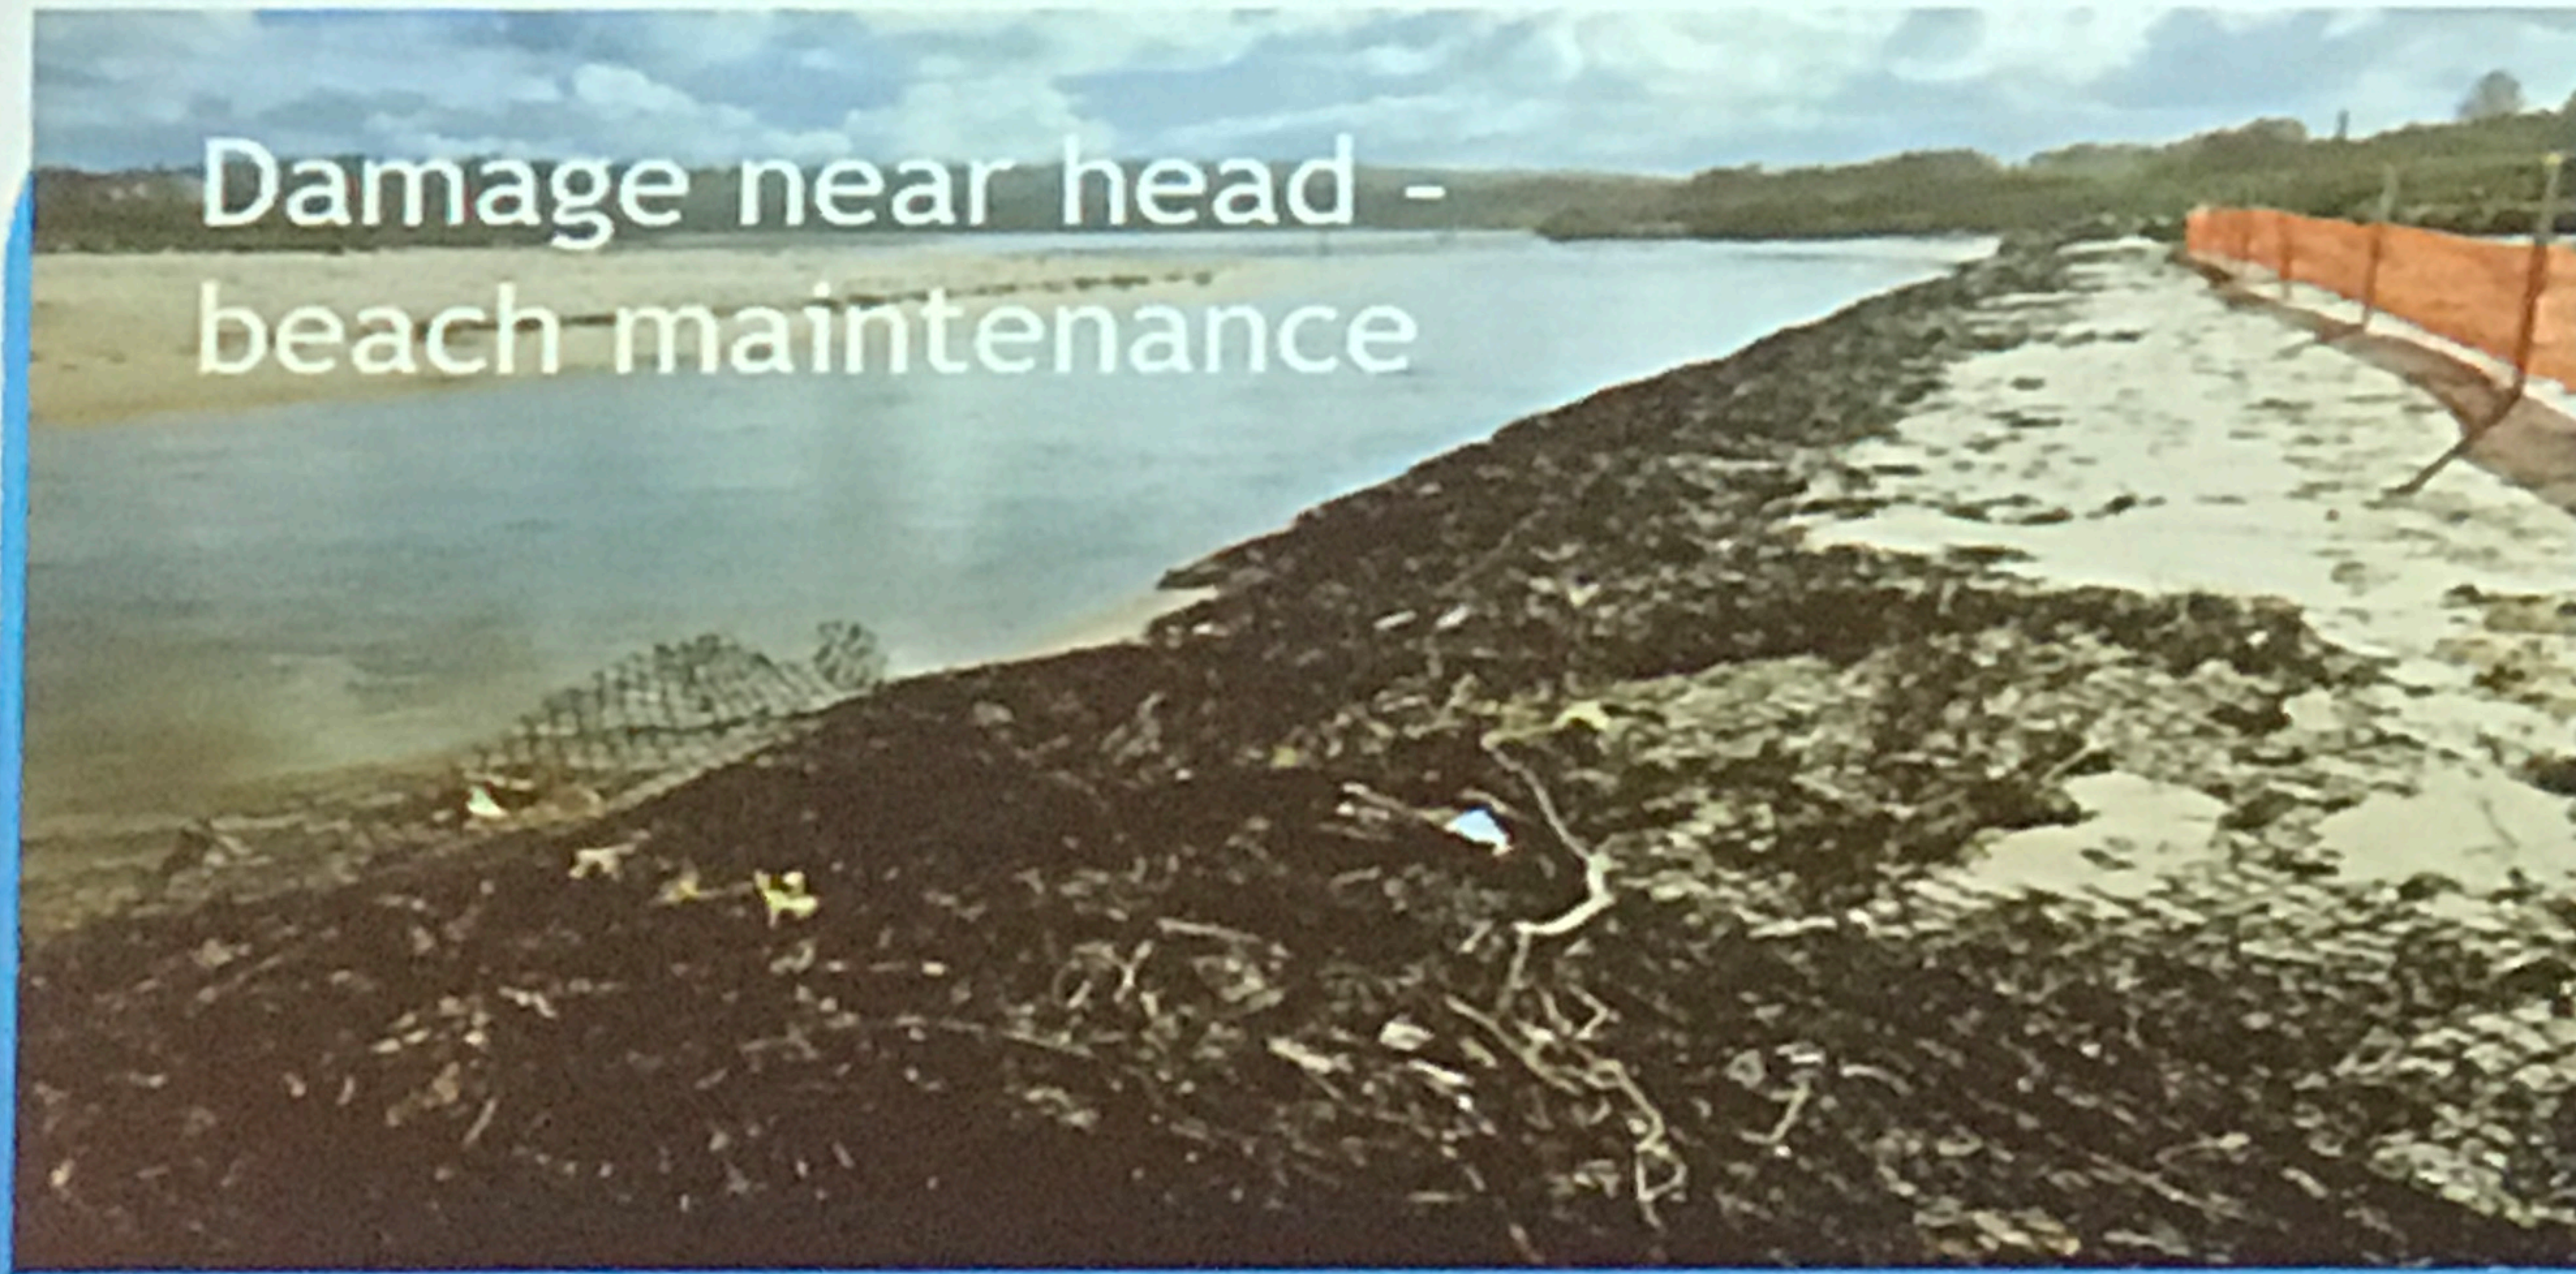

park Trail

© 2016 Google

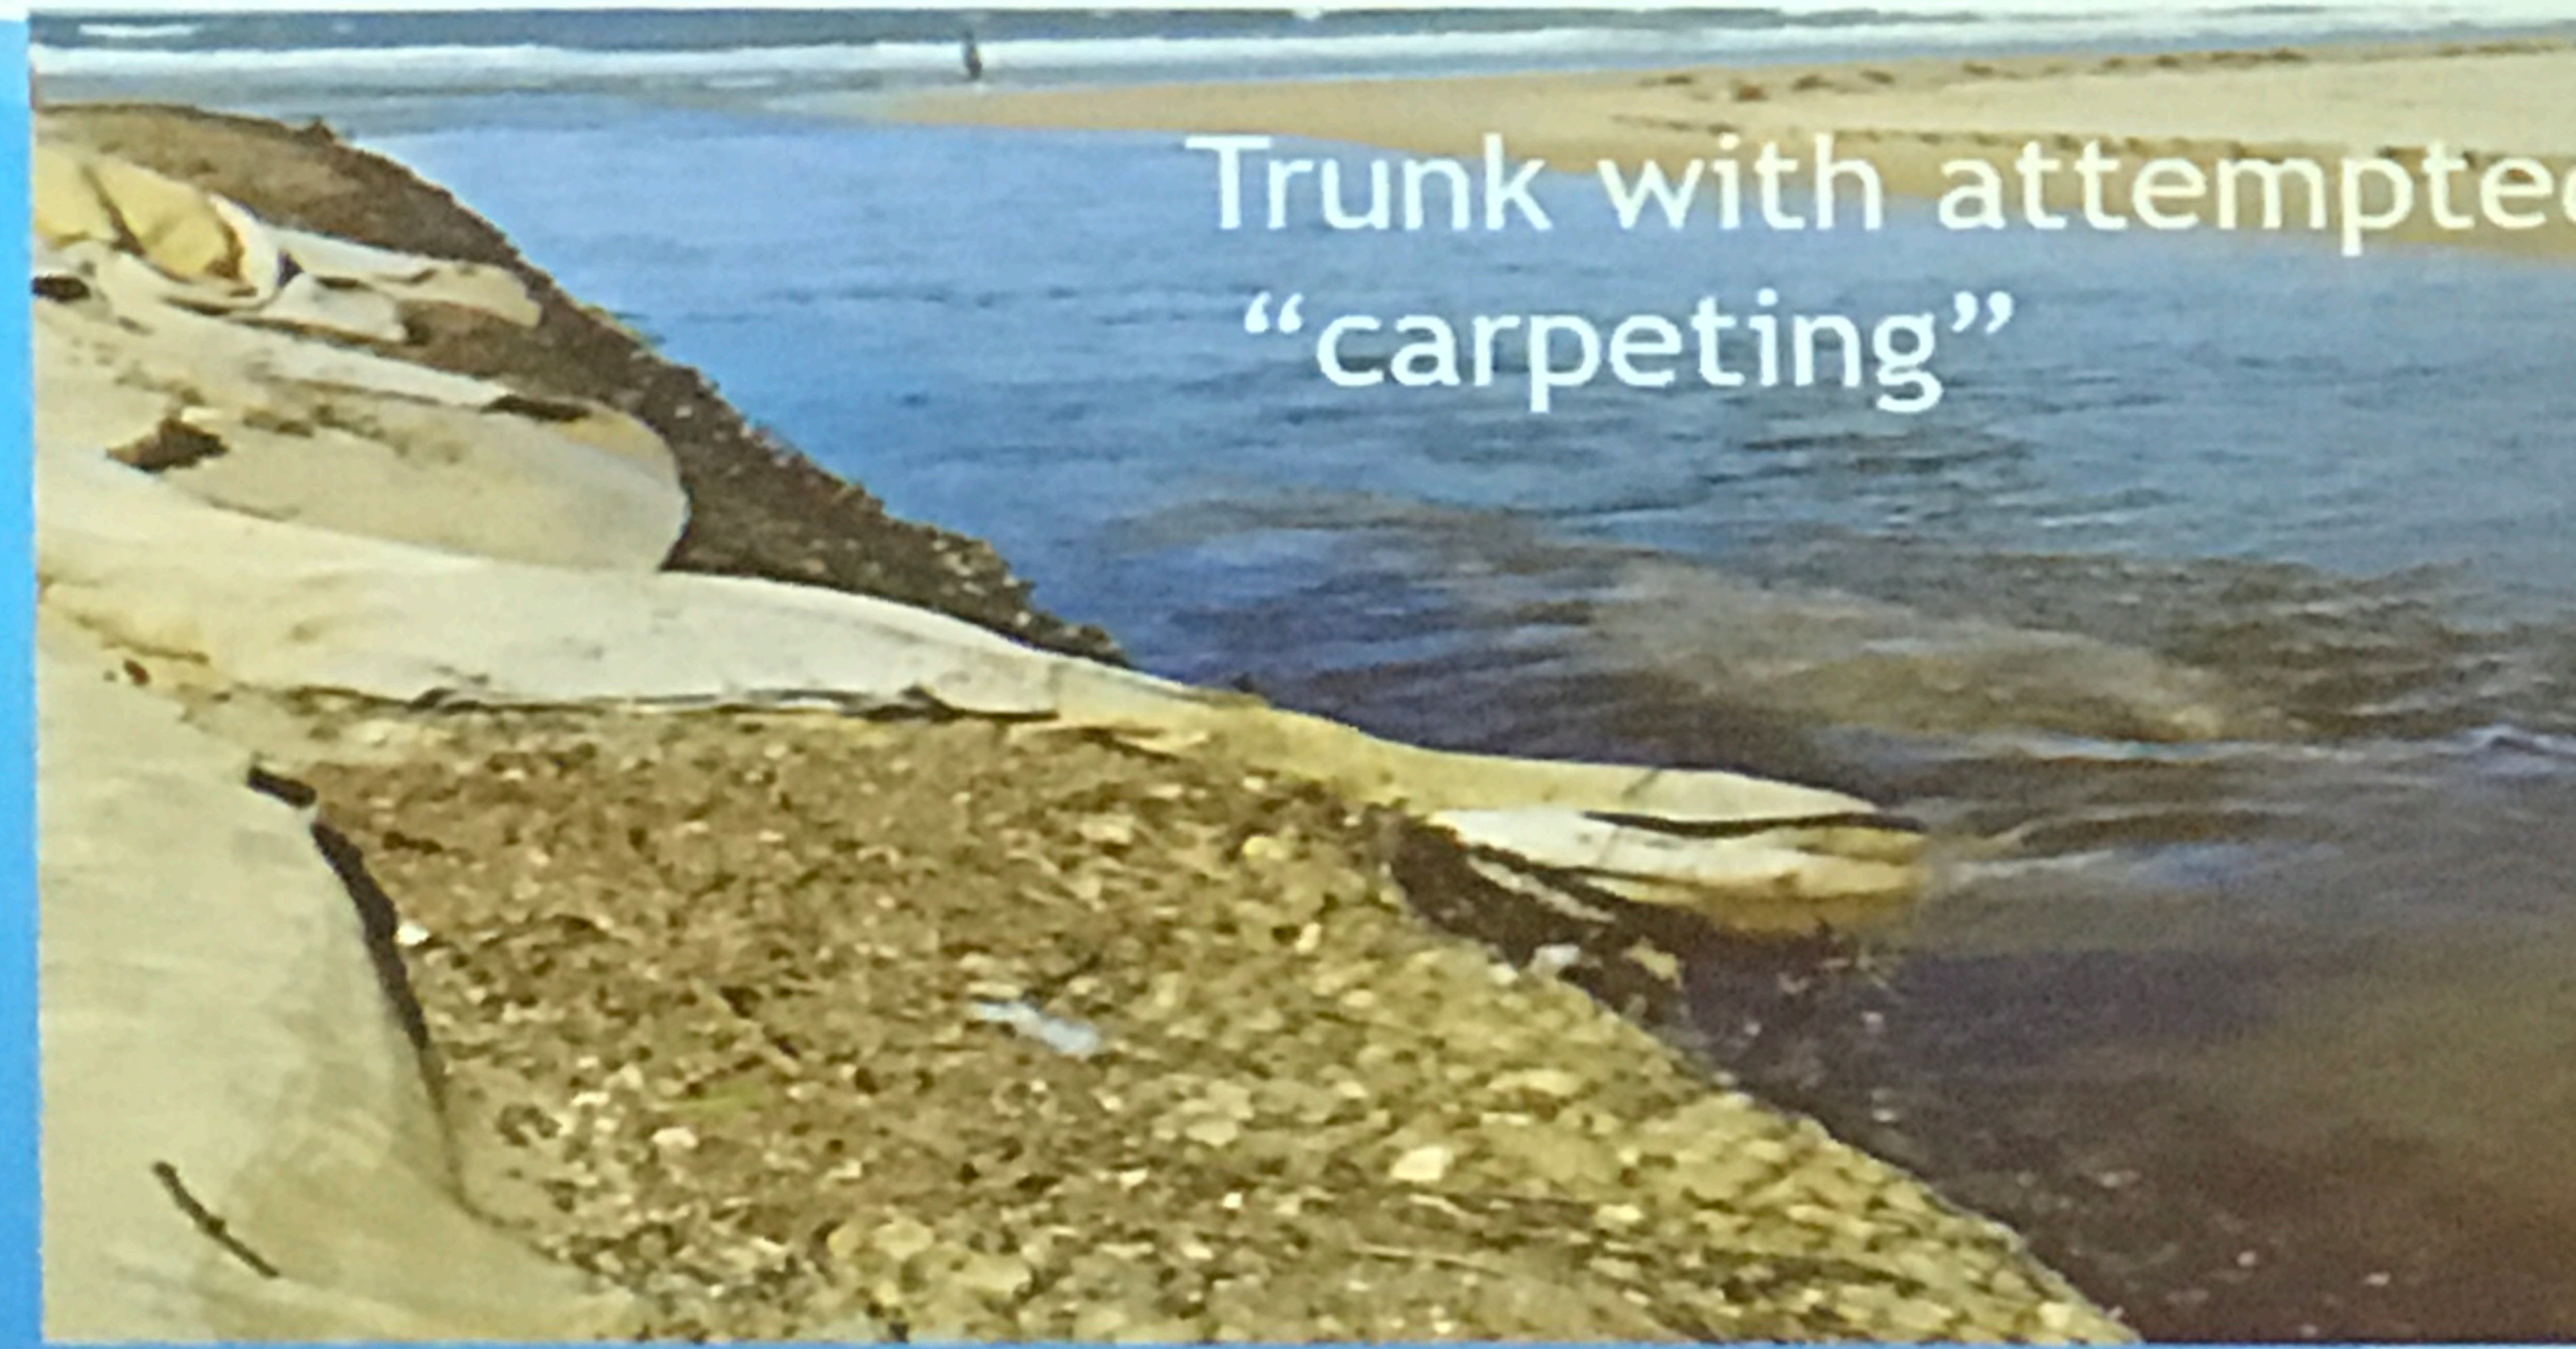

Pittu

Damage near head -
beach maintenance

Trunk with attempted “carpeting”

Tripper wall after 37 years

Remains of geotextile carpet

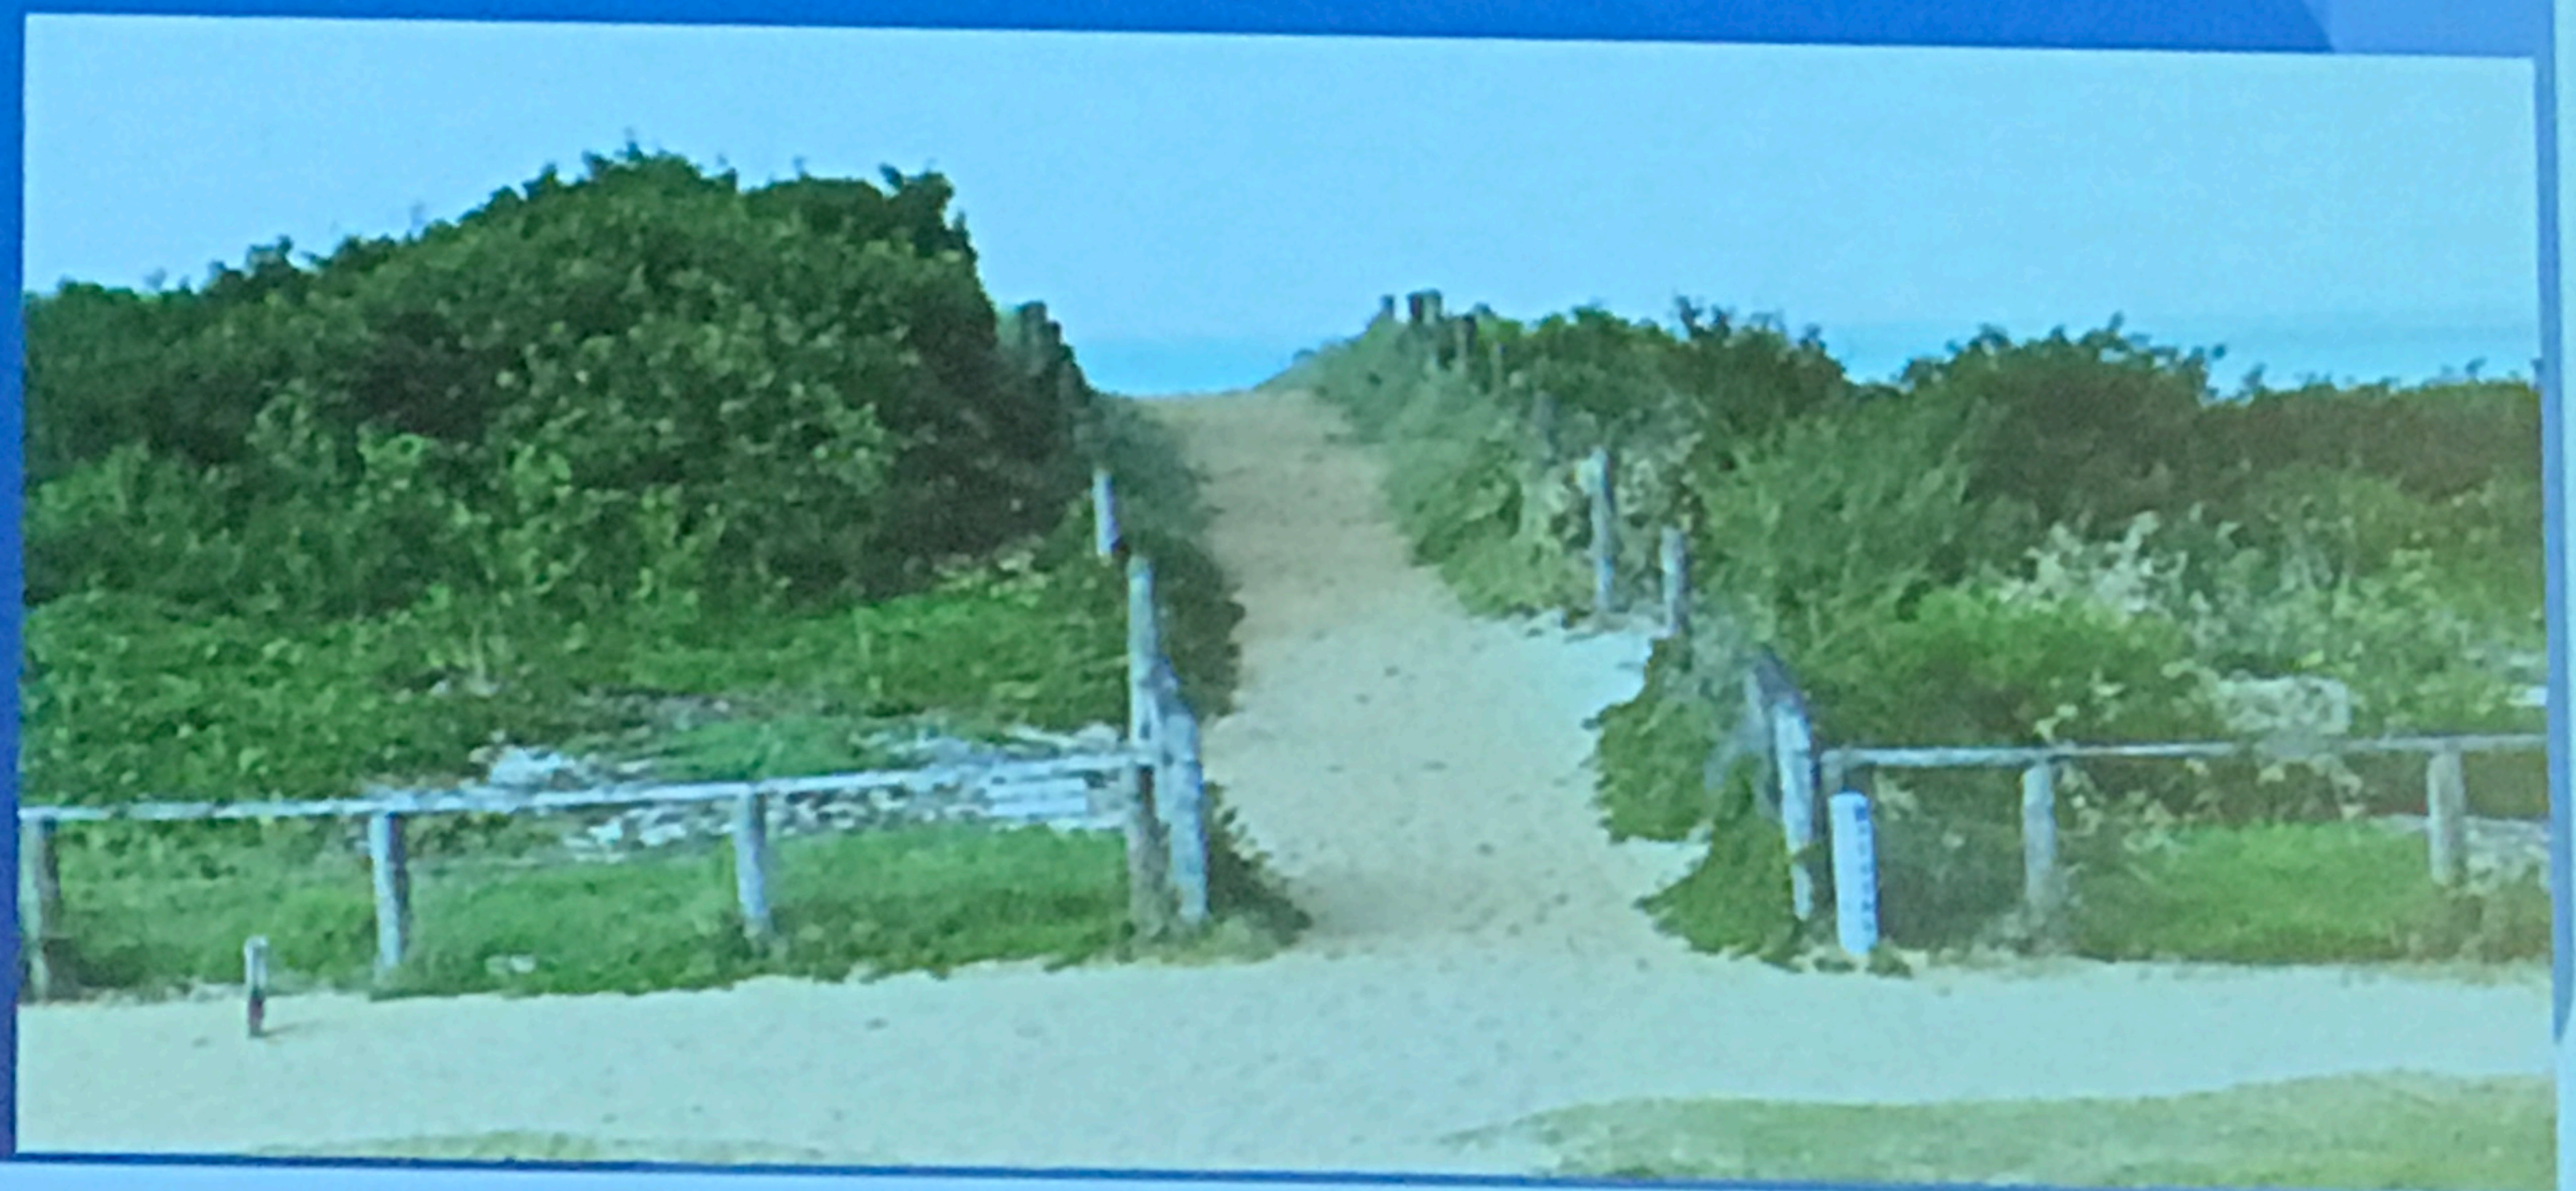

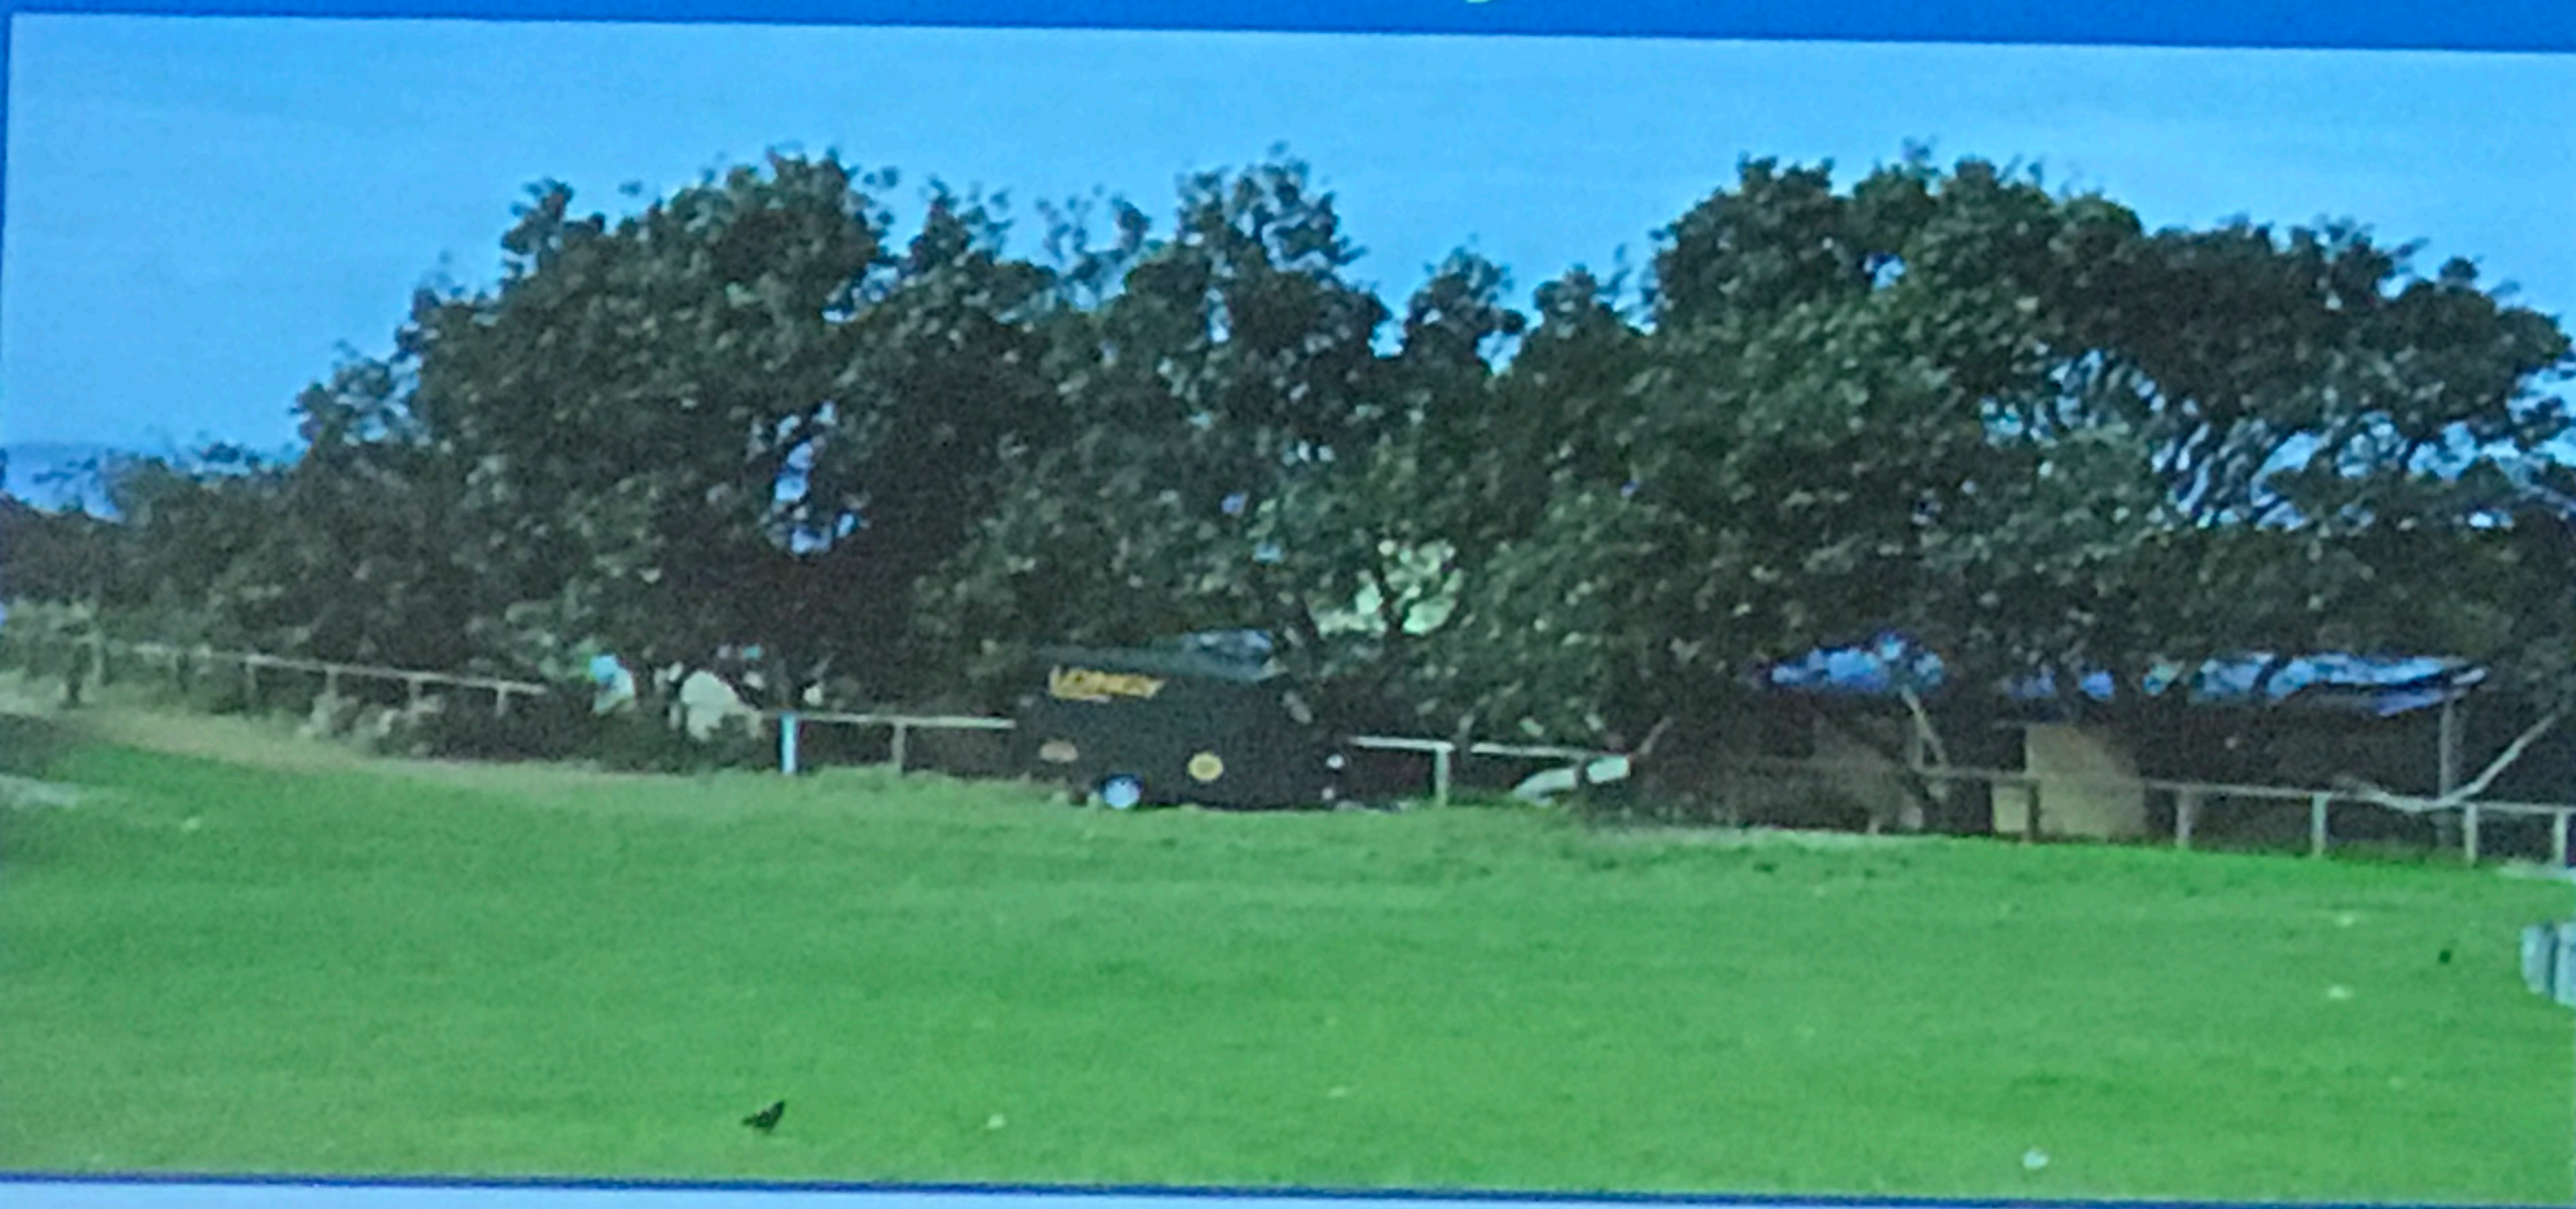

Just before burial

Recovery around Long Reef Surf Club

Relocatable observation and equipment structures and public viewing platform