

Subject: Signs Needed at Both Entry Points To Nude Beach

Date: Fri, 3 Nov 2017 16:54:25 +1100

From: David Dixon <strand@bigpond.com>

To: simon.richardson@cr.byron.nsw.gov.au, basil.cameron@cr.byron.nsw.gov.au, James, Ralph <Ralph.James@byron.nsw.gov.au>, Sarah.Parkinson@byron.nsw.gov.au, strand@bigpond.com

Dear Simon, Basil, Ralph and Sarah,

Thanks again for erecting signs defining the nude section of Tyagarah Beach.

There is now a sign on the track down to the beach at Grays Lane but no comparable sign on the track down to Sunrise Beach near Elements Resort.

Please see photos following.

We think this is a significant oversight because many people enter the beach from the southern end and there is no warning about the new boundaries of the nude section.

When I walked north of Elements between 2 and 3pm today there were four nude people (2 males and 2 females) before the start of the clothing-optional zone. They could legitimately plead ignorance because there was no information about the designated area on the approach to the beach. This will thwart Police efforts to enforce the new rules.

We believe it is imperative to erect an additional sign on the track down to Sunrise Beach so there is absolutely no confusion about the official nude area.

Could we please have your response on this issue?

Sincerely,

David and Susan