

Introduction

My name is Adam Luck and I live in Ocean Shores.

As many people are aware, there is no public transport in the north of Byron Shire on Sundays, making it difficult for people to travel between Ocean Shores, New Brighton Brunswick Heads and Mullumbimby to visit friends and family etc. This lack of transport is a problem for a lot of people I speak too.

So, Mum told me to stop complaining about the lack of public transport and do something about it. So with the help of Mum and Vanessa I decided to start a petition with a goal of 1000 signatures so that I could present the petition to Byron Shire Council at a meeting. There was so much support for the petition that it only took me 5 days to get over 1000 signatures.

So, here I am asking Council for their opinion on this issue of no buses on Sunday to Mullumbimby and how we can fix the problem.

Thanks everyone for your support.

As many people are aware, there is no public transport in the north of Byron Shire on Sundays, making it difficult for people, young people in particular, to get to where they want to go. Adam Luck has decided to take action on this problem.

Adams told The Echo that for those people traveling between Ocean Shores, New Brighton Brunswick Heads and Mullumbimby in particular, this has become a major problem. If you want to see friends, or anything else in these areas you either have to hitchhike or have dedicated parents and friends who are prepared to drive you around. Adam is one of the people who is impacted by this problem, so he decided to start a petition, requiring over 1,000 signatures, to be presented to the Byron Shire Council on Thursday. In only five days, with support from his carers,, Adam has exceeded the goal of 1,000 signatures.

'Everybody is saying "Yes, we need a bus service"; Adam told The Echo. Others signing the petition echoed this sentiment saying 'My daughter would love this' and 'My kids could get around so much more easily, it would be great.'

All this was started by Adams' initiative, along with his mum telling him to stop complaining about the lack of public transport and do something to make a change.
